

About our School

Beauty Education Company (bec) is a private Beauty and Holistic Therapy College. We have small class sizes and teach to the highest standard of education in the Beauty and Complimentary Therapy Industry. We are a centre of excellence and our students continue to achieve high results in examination.

Who's teaching you?

The Director of Beauty Education Company is Clair Bennett, a well known face to the beauty industry, as a technical consultant for skincare and product development and is one of the leading training experts in the business. Clair has a reputation for excellent training, not only for the course content and brilliant practical delivery, but it's her wealth of experience as a highly qualified Beauty and Complementary therapist that has taken her worldwide.

"Clair's courses have been written to interject skills that she has learnt from her extensive travel and often leave delegates wanting to learn more and more."
Vitality Magazine Jan 2006.

All of our lecturer's are highly qualified and have years of experience at the sharp end of treating clients. They still have their own clinic's, they are not full time teachers therefore you are learning from guru's within their own field of expertise.
